BARBECUES MADE IN SPAIN

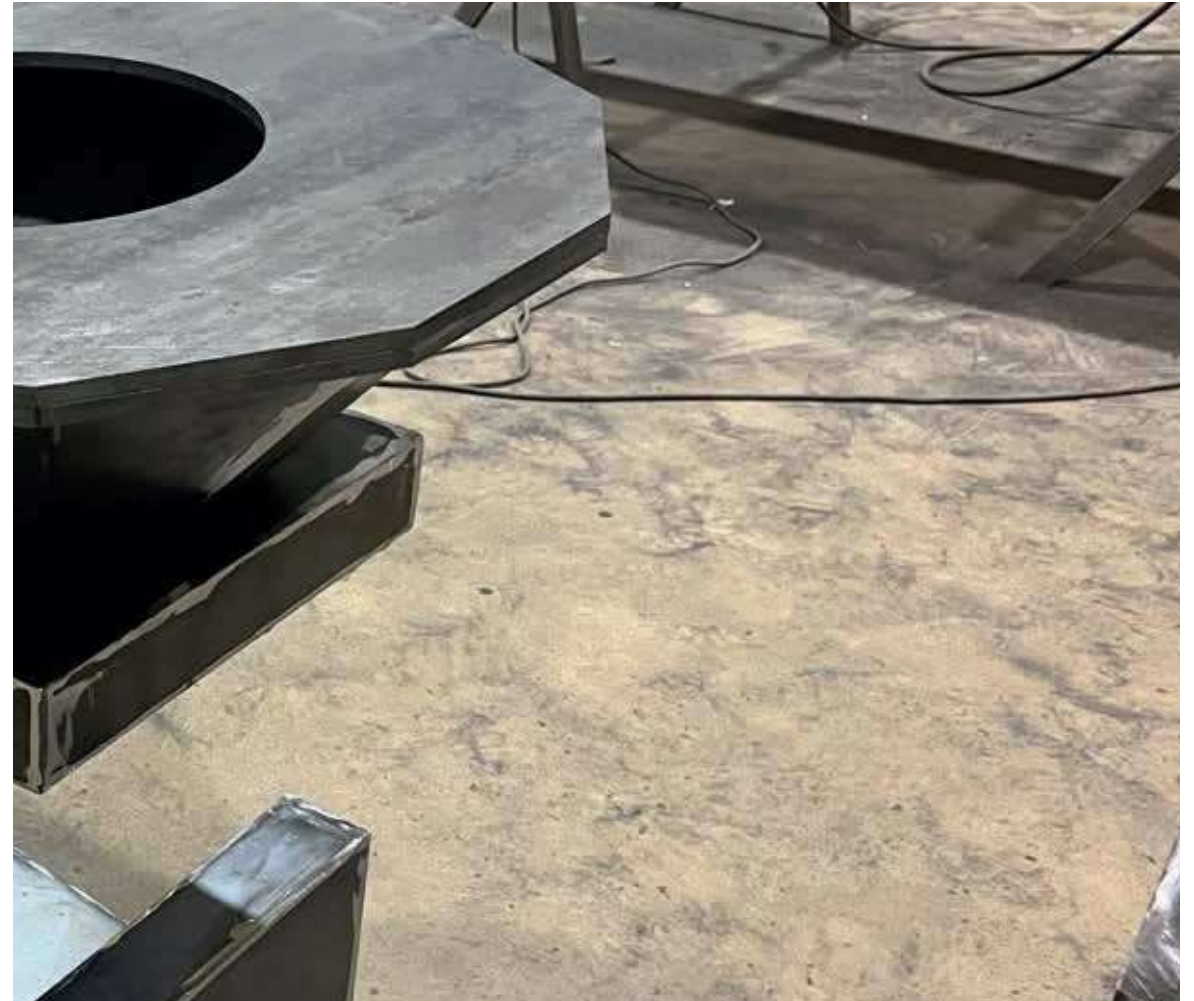

We are manufacturers

We manufacture in an artisan way in our workshops located in León, land of miners, mountains and fire in the North of Spain, thus guaranteeing a quality product at origin.

The main base of our barbecues is CORTEN STEEL which, due to its high content of copper, chromium and nickel, gives it the special and unique characteristic of creating a layer of surface oxide that "regenerates" (in normal conditions of exposure) and interrupts the corrosion of the steel, providing it with great durability in extreme climatic conditions.

This oxide layer is characterized by its reddish or orange color, which makes it one of the most used materials by contemporary artists and architects in their creations.

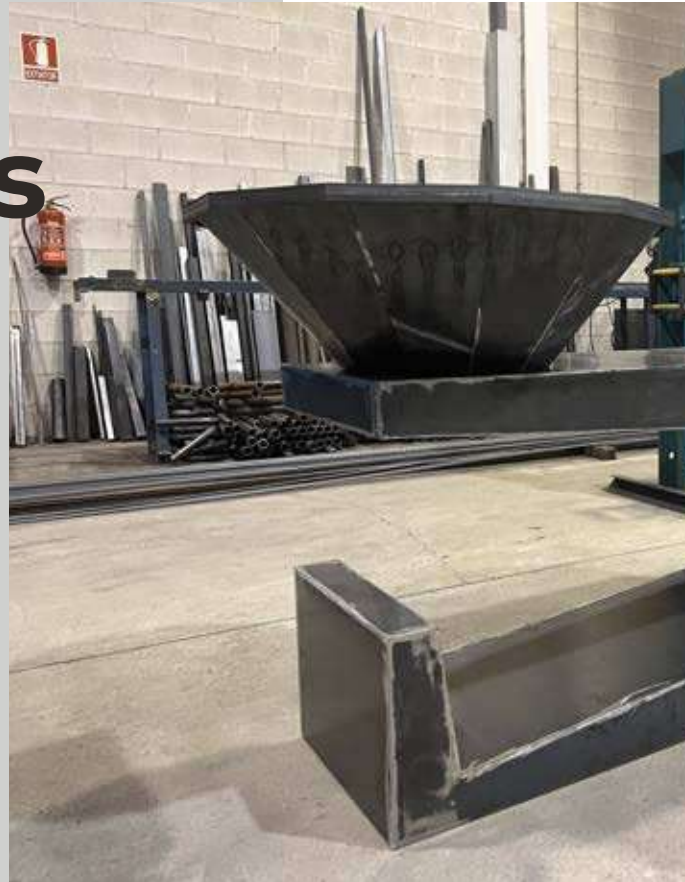

Our barbecues

In addition to offering high quality barbecues, our designs suggest an artistic piece that invites our customers to enjoy not only the taste, but also the other senses.

It will undoubtedly become the heart of your garden, creating a relaxing environment in which to enjoy good times with family and friends.
